

Evolutionary Ecology Research

Volume 9 Number 5 July 2007 Pages 719–885
ISSN 1522–0613

Adaptive dynamics with vector-valued strategies J.S. Brown, Y. Cohen and T.L. Vincent	719–756
Body size, colony size, abundance, and ecological impact of exotic ants in Florida's upland ecosystems J.R. King and S.D. Porter	757–774
Seasonal resource oscillations maintain diversity in bacterial microcosms C.C. Spencer, G. Saxer, M. Trivisano and M. Doebeli	775–787
Protozoan functional responses: effects of species, genotype, and anti-predator defences S. Duquette, R. Altwegg and B.R. Anholt	789–800
Behavioural plasticity in an ecological generalist: microhabitat use by western fence lizards D.A. Asbury and S.C. Adolph	801–815
Heritability of spider ballooning motivation under different wind velocities D. Bonte and L. Lens	817–827
When ecological isolation breaks down: sexual isolation is an incomplete barrier to hybridization between Rhagoletis species D. Schwarz and B.A. McPheron	829–841
Bioclimatic modelling, morphology, and behaviour reveal alternative mechanisms regulating the distributions of two parapatric salamander species S. Arif, D.C. Adams and J.A. Wicknick	843–854
Extra-pair paternity in birds: review of the genetic benefits E. Akçay and J. Roughgarden	855–868
Testing theories of sexual selection in decorated crickets (Gryllobates sigillatus) T. Ketola, R. Kortet and J.S. Kotiaho	869–885

Evolutionary Ecology Research is published by Evolutionary Ecology Ltd, PO Box 210088, Department of Ecology & Evolutionary Biology, University of Arizona, Tucson, AZ 85721-0088, USA (e-mail: scarab@u.arizona.edu)

